Police and Military Maritime Training

This document outlines RED SWAT™ recommended Advanced Maritime Security & Force Protection Tactics Training Course for Maritime Units and provides our general fee structure. The objective of this training would be to train unit members in advanced individual policing skills and small unit tactics that will enhance operational capabilities for law enforcement missions.

Redswat™ propose the following methodology to ensure maximal training benefit. TM

1. Conduct a broad Needs Assessment to determine level of knowledge, skills and abilities of the officers and units designated for training. The needs assessment will evaluate: mission, threat, people, equipment, and training status.
2. Develop a specific Program of Instruction (POI) that directly addresses identified training needs. This will precisely identify the training objectives and classes that will be taught
3. Develop a Training Plan that schedules the delivery of training and conducts appropriate evaluations. This will layout in chronological order the time line of training to ensure it fits availability of students, ranges and equipment.
4. Deliver Training. This will be done using Mobile Training Teams of 4-6 Red SWAT instructor all of who are experts in their field.

In General, without the benefit of a detailed needs assessment; RED SWAT™ would recommend the following as an introductory training course of Advanced Maritime Security & Force Protection Tactics Training Course with additional training specific for unit conducting Maritime-policing operations.

The plan delivers an intensive five-week course with the following focus:

Week One: Basics of SWAT/ERT/SORT

This is the introductory block of RED SWAT™ Training that provides the organizational knowledge that is a prerequisite for Advanced Policing Training and Tactics. It includes planning, selection and weapons training.

- Mission, Organization, Command
- Staffing and Equipment Requirements
- Selection Process for Team Members
- Individual Officer Requirements
- The SWAT Training and the Planning Process

Advanced Weapons Training

- Advanced Weapons Training
- Advanced Tactical Handgun

Week Five: Advanced Vehicle Training

This week of training teaches officers how to maximize the use of their vehicle when confronting a situation that involves another vehicle. Classes will teach tactical driving, car stops, searches, and fighting from vehicles.

- Emergency Vehicle Operations Course (EVOC)
- Traffic stops
- Search & Seizures
- Patrol Tactics
- Check points and Barricades

The above is an example of a typical RED SWAT™ training program. We have the ability to expand the training and or substitute other training subjects at the client's request. A needs assessment may suggest that different and/or additional training is needed. The specifics of any training can only be determined after specific input and discussion with the client.

The fee structure for RED SWAT™ training is based on the number of training days, number of instructors, and support costs. Assuming the above training was conducted in Portugal for 40 students, with five US instructors over a five-week period and at the client's facility, using the client's weapons, ammunition and equipment, the fee for this training would be in the range of €170,000.
